Three issues facing MCACA

- Funding public art initiatives
- Highlight projects after they were complete
- Engage residents and visitors
SculpTour

Enter a world of color and light, of shape and form - a place alive with history and imagination, where art fills your senses, with the feelings and aspirations of the human race...where you and your family can share your own artistic expressions. Find it all on the Krasl SculpTour.

Young Flight

Young Flight, is a stainless steel sculpture that was created by Gail mally-mack in 2005. The gift from the sculptor, was inspired by her grandson who loved the beach. mally-mack relates "what he taught me was the wonder of life, seeing things through the eyes of a child." The sculpture addresses the connection of earth the present, the beyond or future. It is the story of life anchored on earth, transforming and flying.
